Superintendent of Public Works
Points Out Repairs Needed in Kona District.

James H. Boyd, superintendent of Public Works, and Marston Campbell, his assistant, returned from Hawaii yesterday after a two weeks' tour of the island, investigating its need for public improvements. They gained a thorough knowledge of the roads, buildings and wharves required in the North and South Kona districts and the work will be done when the funds for the purpose can be obtained. There is room for the expenditure of enormous sums of money to make the roads as they should be, and some of the people who would be benefited by the improvement, according to Mr. Boyd, believe that the only way they can obtain it is through a special session of the legislature.

Speaking of the results of his trip yesterday Mr. Boyd said:

"We found the roads generally in a pretty bad condition. Front street in Hilo which was washed out a few weeks ago needs raising to grade and must be remacadamized. We made temporary repairs by building a culvert, which will answer the purpose for the time being. The road to the Volcano house, excepting about a mile at Olaa village, was washed out by the same storm. The legislature appropriated no money to keep that road in repair, and it is in fearful condition. The road could be repaired now at a cost of $30,000 to $50,000, but in a short time it will require double that amount."

"We had a meeting in Olaa where the homesteaders asked for road improvement in Puna. They need the road badly for the purpose of getting out their produce, and for hauling supplies from the railroad depot. I promised them that I would use every endeavor to get money set aside for that purpose. The cost of this improvement would be about $5,000.

"The Volcano road is in a bad state, and unless soon repaired will become impassable. The stretch of road built by J. H. Waipulani is very good, but from the end of it going through Kaapulaa it is terrible for a stretch of ten miles. Before reaching Pahala plantation, for a distance of five miles the road is fairly good, and from there to Waiohinu the road is in very fine condition. From there to Col. Norris' ranch the road is in first class repair, and from there to the boundary of South Kona the road is as good as can be expected considering the material that can be had for the purpose is only a-a, and they have no roller for crushing the small stones.

"The road through South Kona district is good, and the North Kona roads are in fine condition to about ten miles from the Maguire ranch at Huehue, where a stretch of five miles needs macadamizing. From that point to the end of the North Kona district there is only a trail; a carriage road is badly needed, and would make the circuit of the island complete. Some of these trails are dangerous to life as well as property.

"We also investigated the public buildings in this district. The South Kona court house must be moved from its present location, because of the intense heat in the lock-up where it now is. Plans will be made for a new court house and prison, and it will be built as soon as possible. The site of the North Kona court house must also be changed as confinement in the lock-up is unbearable because of the heat. The waterworks at Waiohinu will be improved and enlarged so as to accommodate all the residents of the village, and give them a better water supply.

"The wharves at all these places need replanking, piling and sheds. They are not protected by sheds at present. This is to be our last visit to Hawaii excepting at North and South Kona where soundings for the wharves must be made."

Superintendent Boyd stated that he did not intend to go ahead with public improvements unless for such work as the legislature had already appropriated money, and if any citizen wished to advance the money required for the improvement without a pledge on his part, relying wholly upon the legislature, as was done by Hackfeld & Co. in the case of a new wharf, he would accept the tender.

Reception to New Pastor.

At the Kaunakapili church last evening a public reception was given to the new pastor of the congregation, the Rev. Mr. Lono. There was a large and representative audience present, and the evening was spent in addresses of welcome. The address on behalf of the congregation was made by Senator Achi, and another on the subject "Strangers Within Thy Gates" by T. McCants Stewart. Others spoke and the new pastor made a thoughtful and scholarly reply, which was well received.

Throat sore? There's no telling what a sore throat will do if you give it "right of way." Uncertain remedies often cause dangerous delay. Make a cure sure with Pain-Killer, known for half a century as a specific for sore throat, croup, coughs, and all kindred troubles. Keep it by you for an emergency. It never fails. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'. Price 25 cents and 50 cents.
